Claudia had to travel by bus instead of on her broomstick.

What would it be like if you had to abandon something you were used to and try something completely new?

At the „Piglet's Delicacies“ factory, Claudia had to stick the same labels on all day long.

What would you do if such boring work was waiting for you? Could you stand it? How could you make monotonous work more interesting?

When Claudia used her spell, the tins turned into grunting piglets.

What do you think you would do if you accidentally cast such a spell?

The beautiful witch Mrs Eleanor offered to make Claudia her apprentice.

Would you accept that offer?

At the end, Claudia had to take a magical oath and promise that she would follow the rules.

And what do you think – why do you think it is important to follow rules, even when we might not feel like it?
